Rotary Donates to Tech Nonprofit

Mecklenburg County-South Rotary Club presented a check on Giving Tuesday in November to Do Greater Charlotte founder and CEO William McNeely. The $7,000 donation will support the organization's efforts to increase technology access and enhance skills. Specifically, it will fund a podcast studio and other IT equipment. The Rotary raised the money during its Bloody Marys on Five golf event last fall and from a matching Rotary district grant. Meck-South Rotary Club meets via Zoom and in person every Friday at 7:15 a.m. at Home2Suites by Hilton Charlotte Piper Glen. Details: mecksouthrotary.org.

Food Pantry Started at Community House Middle School

Ballantyne Families Helping Neighbors in Need has opened a food pantry at Community House Middle School. All families who attend or work for one of the nine Ardrey Kell feeder pattern schools are eligible to use the new food pantry. Families should speak with their school counselors, who will fill out a Google form, and then volunteers will deliver food to that family's school. Community collections are now underway. Endhaven Elementary, for example, held a contest among grades and made a can sculpture spelling out "kind" with its remarkable collection of 3,000 cans.
